

RUSSIANS TO REJECT TERMS OFFERED BY ALLIES

NEW LINCOLN SCHOOL IN 1923 MAYOR TELLS PARENTS-TEACHERS

Says City Finance Program Already Has New Building in Prospect

MAY BE SOME CHANGE IF
LONGFELLOW IS REBUILT

Hopes, However, for Joint Bond Issue for Both if Necessary

THAT the city's school-building program includes a new Lincoln school in 1923 was the information given by Mayor Bentley to an approving audience of the Lincoln
School Parent-Teacher Association
Friday evening. The program of the city, Mr. Bentley said, looked to the reimbursement of sufficient of the present outstanding school bonds in 1923 to permit issuance of new bonds to erect the Lincoln school without unduly burdening the tax-rate, and he was hopeful that this program could be carried through.

Fire May Cause Shift

However, the mayor said, the recent fire at the Longfellow school might cause some shift in the program depending upon whether or not it would be necessary to build a new school for the vocational classes or whether the Longfellow school could be repaired. This was not yet decided, Mr. Bentley said, but a report from the board of education and the vocational school board would probably be made in a few days
which would settle the question.

Should the vocational board ask a new school, Mr. Bentley said, it would be necessary to try to find some way to make a joint bond issue covering the cost of both the Longfellow and Lincoln schools, building them simultaneously. He indicated that the procedure would be similar to that followed in building the Washburn and Logan schools at the same time.

Meeting Approves

The talk by the mayor was received with applause and as a result of its conclusions prepared by a special committee of the P. T. A. launching a campaign for the new Lincoln school, were not presented. Plans made by the association for the campaign were dropped, it was announced, in view of the prospect as outlined by the mayor, and the adoption of a resolution of confidence in the program Mr. Bentley presented.

About 100 persons attended the meeting, and were entertained by an interesting program presented by presents and former pupils of the Lincoln school. The program included songs by the boys' and girls' choruses of the Lincoln Junior High school, pla-nos by Jane Ackerman and Mildred Lockman, a piano duet by the Keez twins; a vocal solo by Dorothy Woods and a version of The Pied Piper of Hamelin enacted by the Lincoln School Girl Reserves.

A constitution and by-laws were presented to the association and adopted at the session.

Famous Oklahoma Gunman Killed By Officer Who Beats Him To the Draw

WICHITA FALLS, Tex.—By The Associated Press.—Chief of Police J. W. McCormick was the cynosure of all eyes here Saturday. For Friday he matched speed with the famous master of gun craft, D. M. (Bud) Ballaw—and won.

As a result Ballaw, survivor and hero of many perilous situations, is mourned by admiring friends who thought him virtually invincible.

The incident recalled the pioneer days of Texas when the open saloon and public gambling-house were regarded as necessary adjuncts to every community and guns and knives were necessary adjuncts to every man, when the man who "slow with his gun was quick to die."

Beat Him on the Draw

Chief of Police McCormick had word that Ballaw was behaving in a disorderly fashion in a soft drink parlor. He walked up to Ballaw and charged him with drunkenness, demanding that he hand over his pistol. With the contemptuous remark: "Hell, you're out o' luck," Ballaw according to witnesses, reached for his gun. But McCormick flashed his own gun into view and fired, continuing the fusillade until five shots had entered Ballaw's writhing body.

It was a .38 against a .45 and the former won. The latter, in fact, never left his holster. Nor will its eight notches ever be increased by the man in whose defense it had served so well until Friday.

Slayer Arrested

Had the shooting occurred in the early days McCormick would probably have been acquitted at the bar of public opinion as having acted in self-defense and Ballaw's body would probably have been thrown across a horse's back and taken away for a rude burial. But happening as it did, in the twentieth century, McCormick was arrested and placed under bond.

THREE NEGROES CHARGED WITH MURDER OF YOUNG WHITE GIRL BURNED AT THE STAKE BY MOB

KIRVIN, Tex.—By The Associated Press.—Three negroes were burned to death at the same stake here at 5 o'clock Saturday morning, by a mob of 500 determined men following their alleged implication in the criminal assault and murder of seventeen-year-old Eula Awley, white girl, whose mutilated body was found near here Thursday night.

"Snap" Curry, the first negro burned, was taken from the custody of Freestone county officers earlier in the night as he was being conveyed from Wortham to some point west. It is alleged that he confessed to the mob that he had assaulted and murdered the girl and that in his confession he implicated two other negroes, J. H. Varney and Mose Jones.

The mob took the other two negroes from the county jail and all three negroes were then rushed to Kirvin.

HENRY P. DAVISON DIES TODAY UNDER SURGEON'S KNIFE

Member of Morgan Firm Passes Away at Long Island Home
During Operation

TUMOR ON THE BRAIN COULD ONLY BE PARTLY REMOVED

Financier Realized Seriousness
of His Condition

NEW YORK.—Henry P. Davison of J. P. Morgan and Company, died on the operating table Saturday.

This announcement was made at two o'clock at the Morgan offices. Mr. Davison died about 1:30 p. m. Mr. Davison was placed on the table for a second operation to remove a tumor resting on the auditory nerve. The operation was performed in a special room fitted up in his country home at Peacock point in Locust valley, Long Island.

Five members of the Morgan firm, keeping vigil at the offices in Wall street, received the first news over a special telephone wire.

A short time before news of the death came from Wall street that Mr. Davison had passed successfully through the operation and was expected to recover.

A few minutes after the flash of Mr. Davison's death reached the Morgan offices, the following statement presumably dictated by one of the physicians, but unsigned, was received:

"Mr. Henry P. Davison died shortly after the conclusion of an operation on an infiltrating tumor of the brain which could only be partially removed."

Mr. Davison was under the influence of ether when the end came. Only the white clad doctors and nurses were in the room with him. Members of his family and intimate friends, including J. P. Morgan, were in the house waiting anxiously for word from the surgeons.

Intimate friends of Mr. Davison said that he had taken no formal farewell of his family. He apparently was in buoyant spirits when he was carried into the operating chamber.

But it was evident that Mr. Davison realized the seriousness of his condition for he expressed two wishes before the ether cover was applied. One was that he be laid to rest in Locust valley. The second was that his funeral be as unostentatious as possible.

All during the morning a steady stream of automobiles containing friends and doctors, rolled up the driveway, but after noon, no machines were allowed to enter the estate.

Immediately after the news that Mr. Davison was dead had been received, the offices of the Morgan company were darkened. The five partners at the office were William H. Porter, Dwight W. Morrow, E. C. Stettinius, George Whitney, and Eliot C. Bauman.

Grandfather Gives Consent

All three negroes were employed on the farm of J. T. King, prominent farmer and grandfather of the dead girl, with whom she lived, her parents being dead. Mr. King was present at the execution and the mob leaders are said to have obtained his approval thereof before lighting the torches.

The lynchings were carried out deliberately. There was no discharge of firearms. It was reported, however, that the negroes were mutilated before being tied to the stake. With the exception of a few shouts and the screams of the condemned men there was little to disturb the early morning quiet of the backwoods community. The incinerations took place directly in front of two small churches. One of the negroes is said to have died singing a church hymn.

Kirvin is a town of about 500 inhabitants situated in Freestone county, east central Texas, about eighty miles south of Dallas.

Attacked on Way Home

Mr. King resides at Kirvin. Miss Awley was riding her horse home from the school which she attended, several miles from Kirvin, late Thursday, when she was attacked. Her body was later found near the road with twenty-three knife wounds inflicted in the head, neck and chest. News of the murder spread quickly and late Thursday a band of several hundred men and a large sheriff's posse were scouring the neighborhood.

Jones and Varney had previously been arrested on suspicion and placed in the county jail at Fairfield. This is the first triple lynching in Texas within the recollection of the present day residents.

Arrest 2 White Men

LEAGUE, Tex.—Two white men were detained Saturday for further investigation of their action provoking the attack on and murder of Eula Awley, for which three negroes were burned at Kirvin this morning. No announcement of charges being filed against the men have been made, according to reports here. They were held pending investigation only.

IMPROVED SELLING METHODS DECLARED NEED OF RETAILER

Charles H. Mackintosh, Associated Advertising Clubs Head, Addresses Local Ad Club

EDUCATE SALES PEOPLE IS THE MESSAGE OF SPEAKER

Cost of Poor Business Methods
Borne by Entire Country

MANUFACTURERS and others interested in better and more economical distribution of their products have a great opportunity before them through a co-operative movement to teach retail salespeople better selling practices, asserted Charles H. Mackintosh, of Chicago, president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, speaking here Friday night, before the Advertising Club of La Crosse, at the Chamber of Commerce. C. R. Pieper presided.

A comprehensive plan that is being carried forward by advertising clubs was described by the speaker, who showed that no matter how efficient the advertising of the manufacturer, the final outlet for his goods is through the retail salesperson, and if that individual is only half as productive of results as he might be, the flow of merchandise will be checked.

President Mackintosh presented a forceful argument for the education of sales people and the devotion of more concentration to the problems of selling and advertising to the end that business will be able to survive
a period of steadily declining prices, which he said would continue for at least 25 and possibly 30 years.

When Brains Are Needed

"It doesn't take brains to do business on a constantly rising market;
not by any means, but it does take brains of the highest order to do business at a profit in a period of declining prices. And because of this fact—and I do not want to appear brutal—between 25,000 and 30,000 business firms in this country will be put out of business every year for the next decade, or even longer,"
Mr. Mackintosh said.

At the beginning of the war-time period thousands of persons deserted the plow-share for the simple life of store-keeper. They had a few hundred dollars and a healthy distaste for work. They made money, not by studying the science of business, or by the exercise of their brain, but simply because they could buy a commodity for such-and-such a price, keep it awhile and make a hundred per cent on their investment. It is this class of business man who is bound to hit the wall—is already hitting it, in fact. But any man who will devote himself conscientiously to the problems of doing business on a falling market, and correlate his selling and his advertising can escape
these consequences," he said.

Master of Business

Continuing his address, Mr. Mackintosh said in part:

"Colonel Ayres, the government
statistician who founded the statistical department for the American Expeditionary forces over in France and then came back to Washington and investigated price figures running back more than a century, has prepared a very interesting chart which shows us that the extreme peak of high prices over which we have just passed is nothing new in the history of our country. We have been people talking as if the war burden of high prices were something absolutely unparalleled in the history of this country while it has happened precisely three times the same way. Three times, prices have gone up 250 per cent above the starting point. The first time, after a slow and steady climb of thirty years, that peak was reached in 1812. The war of 1812 accelerated the climb of high prices so much that they toppled over and started down.

Other Periods of Price Decline

"Then for 25 years that downward path continued until the bottom of the valley was reached. Once more prices started slowly to climb until after a quarter of a century the war of 1861-1864 accelerated the prices and toppled them over. Again they started downward and kept going down for a period of twenty-five years when once more they started up for twenty-five or thirty years until the great war accelerated them enormously and again they toppled over and started down.

"Prosperity and high prices have nothing in common. If high prices meant prosperity, which would be the most prosperous country in the world today? It would cost you 10,000,000 rubles today to buy a suit
in Russia. It would cost you 200, 2,000 rubles to send a first class letter. If high prices meant prosperity, obviously a country having prices
which have reached such high levels would be the most prosperous in the world."

COMMON COUNCIL ATTENDS BRADISH FUNERAL IN BODY

Take Recess at Adjourned Meeting Until Next Thursday Evening, May 11

THE adjourned meeting of the common council Friday evening voted to take a recess until Thursday evening, May 11.

Arrangements were made to attend
in a body the funeral of George P.
Bradish, at 3 o'clock this afternoon.
Aldermen were to meet at the city hall at 2:30, according to the plans.

Upon the passage of a resolution requesting the mayor to appoint a committee of three aldermen to draw up a resolution of condolence, Mayor Bentley appointed Aldermen Mahney, Robinson and Kilian. The resolution will be presented at the next meeting.

GENOA CONFERENCE AT MOST CRITICAL STAGE SINCE ITS OPENING DECLARES ITALIAN

Differences Among Allies Over Memorandum to Russia Constitute Stumbling Block; Lloyd George to return home
if Agreement is Not Reached Soon

GENOA.—Russia's reply to the allied memorandum expected to be ready Sunday or Monday, will be a distinctly conciliatory document, not intended to break off negotiations, Foreign Minister Tchitcherin said Saturday. It will, however, he declared, firmly state Russia's inability to comply with the terms offered.

Reuter's correspondent here says Saturday: "The final Russian decision is not expected before Monday or Tuesday. Meanwhile it is rumored that Premier Lloyd George's train is ready and that, failing a favorable change in the situation as the result of M. Barthou's return, Lloyd George will return to London forthwith."

At Critical Stage

GENOA.—By The Associated Press.—The most critical stage of the international economic conference was reached Saturday, arising through the differences in the ranks of the allied delegates over the memorandum to Russia and through the attitude of the Russians themselves, it was declared by an official Italian spokesman.

"This crisis," he said, "is more grave than the one the conference sustained after the signing of the Russo-German treaty at Rapallo on Easter Sunday. The conference between Foreign Ministers Schanzer of Italy and Jaspar of Belgium, however, created a good impression. There are difficulties, but they are not insurmountable."

Russians Ask Gold

"The Russians, on the other hand, created a distinctly bad impression at the conference at the Villa de Albertis with Sir Laning Worthington-Evans and Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain Friday evening. They
(the Russians) ask billions and billions of gold francs, and they do not ask them in the form of credits with which they can buy goods, but in cash —in gold."

The chief stumbling block, it was indicated, was the clause relating to the treatment of foreign property nationalized by the soviet government.
Russia regards the provisions of that clause as a distinct attempt to infringe her sovereignty and will not accept the plan for a mixed tribunal which M. Tchitcherin said would mean the establishment of a "flock of little reparations commissions" to interfere with Russia's internal affairs.

CHINA'S CIVIL WAR AT END WITH THE RETREAT OF CHANG

General Wu Pei Fu Recognized by Peking Government as Master of the Situation

ARE DISMISSED BY PRESIDENT

General Chang also Relieved of Post in Manchuria

PEKING.—By The Associated Press.—China's civil war appears to have ended with the flight of Gen.
Chang Tso-Lin toward Mukden and the recognition by the Peking government of General Wu Pei Fu as master of the military situation.

Chang Tso-Lin, who brought 100,- 000 troops south of the great wall, is believed to have abandoned the idea of offering organized resistance.
His flight was hurried.

Half of Chang's army is roaming
the country between Peking and Tien Tsin.

The Peking gendarmie disarmed 11,000 of Chang's soldiers outside the city walls. Wu Pei Fu is said to have paid each of the men ten dollars for the expenses of his trip home.

Peking remains free of the presence of large bodies of troops from either side. No foreigner was hurt while inside the walls and the property of foreigners was reported as respected.

An accurate estimate of the casualties cannot be obtained at this time but 2,500 dead or wounded were counted near Chang Sin Tien alone.
Foreign doctors said there were similar casualties at Fengli.

Ministers Dismissed

Sweeping governmental changes followed the success of Gen. Wu Pei Fu in winning the military mastery
at Peking.

President Hsu Chi Chang issued a mandate dismissing Premier Liang Shih and ordering his arrest.

Finance Minister Chang Hu and Minister of Communications Yeh Kung Cho also were dismissed and their arrest ordered.

Gen. Chang Tso Lin, the Manchu
leader, defeated by Wu in the campaign just ended, is dismissed from his office as inspector-general of Manchuria.

Premier Liang Shih Yi, who is now in Tien Tsin, where he has been on leave for several months, is charged with connivance with Chang Tso Lin
to promote civil war.

THOMPSON GETS THRILL WHEN ELEVATOR DROPS

ALCOHOL RUNNER ON MILWAUKEE TRAIN IS FINED $250 HERE

Russell Shipley, Who Posed as News Agent, Gets Minimum Fine

Russell Shipley of Milwaukee, arrested on charges of bringing alcohol into La Crosse, was fined $250
by County Judge Brindley on Saturday. Shipley posed as a news agent, coming into the city every other day
on Milwaukee passenger train No.
15. Five one-gallon tin cans of alcohol were found hidden under a pile of books and papers in the hamper of the type used by news agents.
Shipley formerly was a news agent working on Milwaukee trains. He entered a plea of guilty through his lawyer John Doherty. Shipley has been in jail since Wednesday. James Smith, field director for the federal prohibition enforcement commission for Wisconsin, was in court and urged a minimum fine and charge for Shipley.

LABOR SECRETARY REPORTS EXTENDED INDUSTRIAL BOOM

WASHINGTON.—Employment
conditions in the United States demonstrate that there "is widespread industrial awakening extending from coast to coast,"
Secretary of Labor Davis declared Saturday, commenting upon investigations and reports made by the federal employment service.
Although there are a few dark spots in which considerable unemployment is yet reported, Mr.
Davis added, the entire country can be said to have come out of the depression.

"The farm situation is encouraging," he said. "The demand for farm help from all sections is indicative of the optimistic attitude of the farmer. As there are 6-448,000 farms in the country, they will absorb a tremendous amount of labor."

War Songs

WHAT has become of "Over There," "Tipperary" and the other martial tunes that were so popular during the war? One rarely hears them any more. With Memorial Day coming perhaps there will be a revival of "Dixie," "Marching Through Georgia" and other songs that call up in memory the Civil War. Musicians are wondering what particular song American posterity will always associate with the World War. The interesting possibility looms, that they will not remember any song in this connection—unless it's written later.

The popular song during the Revolutionary War was "Yankee Doodle." After nearly a century and a half it is still going strong. "Hail, Columbia!" was first sung April 25, 1793, by a young actor named Fox, in Philadelphia's Chestnut street theater. While not exactly a war song, it was in the nature of a reaction from the war, expressing young America's exuberance at its independence.

In 1814 the spirit of the War of 1812 fired Francis Scott Key with militant patriotism, and he wrote "The Star-Spangled Banner." The Civil War left the country with a whole flood of songs, some of them sure-fire today, others good on occasion. The Spanish-American War dug up the old-timers, including "Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." This gem, however, dates back to the Chicago fire, which it commemorated. The war with Spain produced no song typical of its period—possibly because so many of the singers died of malaria, "yellow jack" and embalmed beef.

Maybe some one, later on, will burst forth with the song that Americans always will associate with their part in the World War. The chances, however, are against it, for the national complex is to keep the war buried in memory. It is dawning on people that modern war is nothing to sing about.

They Don't Grow Wild

COMPLAINTS are almost daily received at this office lately of vandal raids on flower beds, particularly beds of tulips, by small boys and in some cases by boys more nearly at years of discretion. There is little a newspaper may do in the matter outside of sympathizing with the owners of the stolen and trampled flowers. And we suspect that the police are almost as helpless, for guards cannot be posted at every flower bed. It is a matter, evidently, of school and home discipline. Teachers can help by pointing out to their classes that flower-stealing is theft, and by appealing to the latent spirit of citizenship and honor that is in every youngster, bringing out in this as in other things the importance of respecting the rights of others. But the real place to put a stop to the business is certainly in the homes. Parents should recall that tulips and jonquils do not grow wild in this region, and the return of Johnny with a fistful of such blooms may with reason be made the subject of pointed inquiry. For it is too bad that folks who take the trouble to beautify their door-yards, thus doing their share in making the city attractive, should see their work destroyed. Boys should and we think can be made to see it.

Beside the Point?

CRITICISM in congress of Attorney General Daugherty's attitude toward war contractors alleged to have made a good thing out of the government on settlement of unfilled contracts seems to have been rather unfortunately confused with the Morse pardon case which happened years before the war, in which Daugherty happened to have been interested as one of Morse's attorneys. There may be legitimate criticism of the pardoning of Morse, who, one recalls, was discharged as a dying man but miraculously recovered his health after his release. But there is no evidence that Mr. Daugherty, in his then private capacity as a practicing lawyer, exceeded proper limits, and the statements of former Attorney General Wickersham and Ex-President Taft that Mr. Daugherty's conduct was perfectly straightforward seem competent testimony.

In any event it is water gone over the dam, and has little bearing on the present official services of Mr. Daugherty. Senators criticizing his conduct of the legal department of the government should in fairness, one would think, confine themselves to matters arising since he took office.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Dr. Thomas Edmund Hall, aged 57, died at his home, 1606 Kane street, yesterday afternoon of a complication of diseases. Dr. Hall has practiced medicine in La Crosse for the past two years, having come here from La Crosse where he was located five years.

A great business college, with a capacity equal to the W. B. U., the success of which has done as much to advertise La Crosse as any other enterprise in its history, may be started shortly in Watertown, S. D., with Leigh Toland, president of the La Crosse school as its founder. Mr. Toland has for a long time been considering starting a school in South Dakota because his school here secures so much of its patronage from that direction. If the school is started it will have an immense advantage because the name Toland is known all over the Dakotas and Montana in connection with the business schools in the northwest.

John J. Poesling of La Crosse is in receipt of a letter of the famous Spanish prisoner type in which he is promised a comfortable fortune if he will come to Spain and redeem the baggage of the Russian banker who is incarcerated. The letter is accompanied as are all others received by local people by an alleged clipping from a British newspaper telling of the banker's arrest.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Dave and Will Douglas of North La Crosse have gone to Decorah, Iowa, to take charge of a planning mill.

G. B. Phillips of the Phillips Lumber company has decided to build two fine cottages on Caledonia street in the 1200 block. A crew of men has started to tear down the houses now on the lots.

John Wendling has been put on the police force by Chief Byrne. He will be on the night shift.

At the regular meeting of the board of education last night the Kindergarten association presented a petition asking that the board of education adopt the kindergarten system as a regular part of the course in the public schools. Members of the board were favorably impressed with the idea but it will probably be impossible to comply with the request owing to lack of funds.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Patrick Curran, who has been station agent in La Crosse for the Green Bay, Winona and St. Paul Railway for the past nine years, departed yesterday for Yellow Creek, Ill., to take charge of a station on the Chicago, St. Paul and K. C. Railway. Alonzo Oakes will succeed him here.

The Italian laborers working at Winona Junction for the Chicago and Northwestern railway who struck last Monday morning for an increase in wages have been granted their demands. They will now receive $1.50 per day.

Tomatoes from Florida are in the market today. New potatoes are also to be had but they are somewhat of a luxury, sixty cents a peck being the price.

Dr. S. E. Hutchins is the latest addition to the city of Onalaska. He came from Independence and will open an office next week.

The East Park Land company of La Crosse has been incorporated with a capital stock of $21,000. The incorporators are William L. Crosby, George H. Gordon, Nelson Donaldson and Adolph Anderson.

The Movie Publicity Man Did It

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

Howard Cummings had been separated from his wife, Martha, for over a year when he one evening saw her on the screen in a neighborhood movie theater. She looked more beautiful than ever on the screen—she had always been a particularly pretty girl—and seeing her again after so many months, affected Howard deeply.

As Howard gazed at Martha's winsomeness and saw her familiar smile and quaint characteristics, he felt a sudden rush of his old affection for her. The quarrel which had precipitated their separation seemed small and petty; the time since her departure rolled up dull and lonesome and he was possessed of an intense desire to find Martha and make up at once.

But when Martha had left him a year ago she had said she was leaving him for good. And Martha meant what she said. Was there any possible chance of ever getting her back again?

All the longing for Martha which Howard had suppressed during the year of their separation now swept over him like a tidal wave. His candid acknowledgment that he wanted her back again. Everything else in his life seemed trivial and unimportant. But behind his longing loomed the great fear that he might not be successful in winning her back. And in addition there was another fear—the fear that he might not be able to find her.

However, Howard was a level-headed, practical, successful business man. Though young in years, he had already rolled up quite a fortune. He had plenty of money with which to push his quest.

The first step in finding his wife was undoubtedly to ascertain the nature of the film in which he had seen her and then try to locate her through the manufacturers.

Howard encountered trouble in finding his wife. He knew that movie actresses are constantly changing companies, and that these movie manufacturers themselves are also constantly coming and going. But, to his delight, his task proved surprisingly simple.

He contacted the company making the film in which he had seen his wife was still operating, and his wife was still employed by the company, according to a telegram he received from the publicity manager of the company in response to his wire.

According to this telegram the company was operating at Fort Lee, N. J., a short distance from New York city. Upon receiving this information Howard started at once for New York in the earliest possible train for that city.

The third afternoon found Howard anxiously rolling up the hill at Fort Lee toward a big, glass-covered building—the studio—where his wife was employed. At the door of the studio a rather flashily dressed young man was waiting for him.

"You're Mr. Cummings, I presume," queried this young man.

Howard nodded.

"I am the publicity manager for the Mammoth Motion Picture Company," explained the young man. "Your wife is one of our most promising actresses. She will probably be starring. Come this way, please."

With beating heart Howard followed his guide into the studio, and upon the scene he was presented a picture of light and color and odds and ends were thrown about in apparent confusion. At first Howard was confused, but at last he didn't like the odd glances cast at him by all the people who were standing around or rushing back and forth. He wanted only to see his wife.

Suddenly Howard's heart skipped a beat. His wife was coming toward him, beautifully dressed in an evening gown. Howard looked at her hungrily. Never had she seemed prettier to him. In a moment their eyes met. He saw surprise in her eyes and an insupportable look appear in his wife's eyes before she averted them for a minute or two. Then she came to him and held out her hand cordially.

"How are you, Howard?" she said.

"I—I—stammered Howard. A great burst of light blinded him for a moment. He heard some one else's voice like the publicity manager—saying "That was a bully flash," and then his eyes focused again on his wife to find her looking inscrutable and distant.

OUT OUR WAY

"I want to talk to you, Martha," said Howard. "Can't we go somewhere and talk?"

"Not now, Howard," said Martha rather coldly. "I'm due to rehearse some scenes now. But come back tomorrow. Perhaps we can talk tomorrow."

A feeling of resentment swept over Howard.

"I'm at the Consul Hotel," he said bitterly. "Suppose you phone me there tomorrow when you're not busy."

Without another word Howard turned and hurried from the studio. Rage and resentment swept over him. What a reception! What treatment when he had come such a distance for the sole purpose of trying to make up with his wife! He had half a mind to call the whole thing off and go back to his home without making any further attempt at a reconciliation.

Then again the thought of the loneliness of the past year and of his real love for the wife who had never seemed prettier than now swept over him. He threw back his shoulders.

"Of course she couldn't be anything but distant and cold with all those people around her," he told himself. "It will be different tomorrow—I'm sure it will. I'll be different tomorrow—I'm sure it will."

At breakfast the next morning, as Howard was casually glancing through his paper, his eyes suddenly focused in horror at a picture on the theatrical page. The picture was a photo taken in a studio. It showed a man eagerly shaking hands with a brilliantly dressed, beautiful actress. The woman's face was cold and distant. Over the picture was this caption: "Prominent Midwestern Business Man Seeks Reconciliation With Wife Who Is Becoming Famous in the Movies." The woman was his wife, the man was himself. Now he knew the meaning of that photographic flash while he was at the studio.

Howard went fighting mad at seeing this picture and reading the accompanying paragraphs giving intimate details of his life.

Of course, Martha was in on it," he told himself. "She's crazy about publicity. No doubt she put up that publicity manager to put the thing across. It's a rotten thing to do and I'm done with her forever!"

Howard yanked his grip at once, determined to return to his home forthwith. But, to his disgust, there was no train until late in the afternoon and this made it necessary for him to put in the day in New York.

Howard tramped back and forth on Fifth Avenue and Broadway, trying to find interest in the glowing show windows and the never-ending crowds. But he couldn't get his mind off the dismal end of his expedition.

At last Howard turned his steps toward the hotel, as it was nearing train time. Not once did he think of going back to the studio or even of calling up his wife.

His heart was exceedingly heavy as he opened the door to his room. Then, as he stepped into the room, he gave a startled glance toward the window. There, seated in an arm chair, was his wife!

"How did you get in here? Why did they let you in?" demanded Howard.

"I showed them that picture in the paper," said Martha. "They couldn't refuse me then."

"Howard stepped in the room and closed the door behind him. There he stood, a fine piece of publicity!" "That was a fine piece of publicity!" he answered. "I never thought—"

His wife rushed to him.

"Oh, don't, don't," she cried. "I didn't know it was going to happen. It was awful! Horrid! I've had that publicity manager fired. There are mighty few film press agents who would do a thing like that. And, oh, Howard—"

"Howard melted. She held her arms out to him. Suddenly Howard found himself holding her tightly in his arms.

"Really," whispered Martha, "that horrid picture was a good thing!" "Why?" Howard demanded.

"Because," said Martha, "when you first came I really wanted to make up, but I thought: 'To be cold and distant and make you suffer a while. Then when that picture came out I knew you'd never look me up again, so I rushed right over here. Perhaps we wouldn't have made up except for that picture.'"

"I'm glad—mighty glad," said Howard. "I was afraid—"

"You know you said you'd leave me for good."

"I know," smiled Martha. "But—I've resigned my job. I'm going home with you."

And she snuggled closer in his arms and kissed him.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

WHY FRET?
BY BERTON BRALEY
Now Margot Aquash says we're crude
And Bernard Shaw awows, we're awful
And Mrs. Glyn avers we're rude
And that our ways are most unlawful
They have a right to such a view
Although perhaps we may not love it
Yet I would briefly ask of you,
What of it?

It's natural they should fuss
Their thoughts about this broad domination
But why should we make such a fuss
About each foreigner's opinion?
About our daily tasks we move
In spite of guests who knock and batter
If they approve or disapprove,
It doesn't matter!

A hundred million folks or more
Compose this fairly well-known nation
And if the guests who reach our shore
Decide upon our contemplation
To speak with bairn or bitter gall
As on their homeward way they hurry
It makes no difference at all,
So— we should worry.

KINDERGARTEN FETE, "SPRING," IS GIVEN FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Various Characters Such as "Fairies, Butterflies and Birds Taken by School Groups

The annual kindergarten fete, "Spring," given by the advanced kindergarten classes of the La Crosse Public Schools on Friday afternoon was a very pretty affair. The scheme of the day carnival, the successive scenes, the appropriate music and the series of dramatizations was the original work of the directors of the kindergartens assisted by Miss Prudence Outright, supervisor of grades.

"The Awakening of Spring" was dramatized by the Jefferson, Logan and Franklin kindergartens under the direction of Mary Zerkler, Helen Weber and Roberta Burdard respectively. The Misses Hilda Larson and Elizabeth Withers directed the dramatization of "March" by the Lincoln and Washington kindergartens. "April" was presented by the Washington and the Hogan children with Marion Hammes and Audrey Stewart directing. "May" was done by Webster and Hamilton kindergartens under Edna Norman and Mercedes Helgeson.

The entire fete was a joy to the spectators for its happy, natural children, so beautiful in their gay costumes and so prettily unconscious of their charm. The ingenuity and artistic taste of the kindergarten directors displayed in the designing costumes and grouping colors was well worth special remark. The final scene, "May," was in particular lovely with faintly pastel fairies, its gay yellow bird, the brown cocoons opening into yellow butterflies, the marvelous black and orange orioles and black and white bobolinks, the really beautiful purple pansies, rose-pink sweet peas, golden nasturtiums and the poppies and finally in the half dusk the twinkling fireflies.

But every other scene had its individual attractions as well for ample the first with its jolly group of making a snowman, the sea and sun, the departure of the King and Queen of Winter, with the entrance of the King and Queen of Spring, and the gray, bobbing raindrops, and the final rain bow. "March" had puffing winds and whirling little human windmills and three "early birds" of ingenious devising, a robin, a bluebird and a crow.

"April" had a leading lady in the person of "Lady April" who has a very sweet voice. Sun and flowers, raindrops flee far away, a stage primarily of green and yellow, as an April world she is he and seven handmaiden with tall or us dramatized April's month. This scene was concluded by a quaint rabbit dance by one of the older children.

On the whole the fete was a revelation in many ways. First the singing was surprising—there was no timorous chanting such as once characterized childish attempts—these youngsters could carry a melody through and do it very sweetly. They had a sense of rhythm. Their dramatic instinct has been fostered, they were not "pretending" at all they were "being" raindrop star butterflies, fairies or windmills.

And as many underfed and overworked as overfed and underworked.

MAN WHO FROZE HIS HANDS AT WORK IS GIVEN COMPENSATION

MADISON, Wis. — Compensation was allowed a man who froze his hand while sawing wood for a lumber company in northern Wisconsin, with the thermometer at 34 degrees below zero, the industrial commission ruled today.

In a further decision the commission held that the mother of a man who died as the result of an industrial accident, was wholly dependent upon her son, although she possessed a life estate in the home which they jointly occupied.

Compensation was denied a man who contracted typhoid fever, which he claimed was due to drinking water furnished by his employer. The commission held that in absence of proof that the well of the respondent was polluted with typhoid germs, it would appear that the applicant might have contracted the disease from some other source.

WISCONSIN SLOWLY DRYING UP CLAIMS DRY COMMISSIONER

Moonshine Has Practically Disappeared in Many Counties of the State, Says Smith

MADISON, Wis. — Wisconsin is drying up.

So declares W. Stanley Smith, state prohibition commissioner. Mr. Smith says that repeated raids in certain parts of the state have disclosed the fact that moonshine in many counties has practically disappeared.

"Several of the state deputies spent a whole week recently in just two sections of the state," said Mr. Smith. "Despite the fact that they conducted raids every day on information they were given they did not even find an empty bottle. Stiff fines and repeated raids have made certain parts of the state pretty nearly dry of moonshine."

"There is also a large decrease in the amount of prescription liquor. This is due to two things: first, that the federal authorities are tightening up on druggist and physician permits, and secondly, because the state law requires our permit which must be sanctioned by the local district attorney."

NEW MONTAGUE ORGANIZATION TO OPEN 1922 SEASON WITH TREMPEALEAU TEAM SUNDAY

The Montague baseball team, strengthened to a great extent over last year, opens its 1922 schedule with Trempealeau on the river Sunday afternoon. The club has held regular workouts in preparation for the opening game and is destined to make a good showing tomorrow.

The club has secured the services of Wolf and Viers for the mound this year, the former being a sturdy hurler from Preston, Minnesota. He has met with the enthusiastic approval of Montague officials in the workouts and will be given his first opportunity under fire tomorrow afternoon. Viers, who hurried for the club last year, has been retained again this season. With new additions to the outfield which has strengthened the club to a great extent, Viers is to be counted on as a big asset this year.

Stimms' back, with the La Crosse club of 1921, will be at the receiving end while young Welgert, stellar short stop with the same club last season, will hold down his old position. Charlie Welgert has been placed at second and Art Solie and Bobby Moore will be seen at first and third stations respectively. For the outfield the Montagues have Haley, Temp and Jonrud.

On Sunday, May 14, the Montagues open on the home grounds with Sparta. Sparta has promises of a strong aggregation this season and fans should be royally entertained when the outfit comes here in another week. The club has made arrangements to provide music for their opening here on that day. Officials announced that games have been scheduled for most of the season.

NORMALS COP FROM LUTHER COLLEGE ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Maroon and Gray Take Second Game this Season; Score
6 to 5

The normal school baseball team won their second game this season by defeating Luther College of Decorah, Ia. 6 to 5 Friday afternoon in a game in the Iowa town. Gunderson occupied the mound for the locals in the first seven innings, being relieved by Schultz in the last two frames. Gunderson allowed only four hits while in the box; Schultz was tapped for three safeties in the eighth, but came in the last when only three men faced him.

The La Crosse men hit Hoyden, of the Lutherans, five times, two of the five being credited to Stoneman who got a single and a double. Hoyden's downfall was caused by the fact that he walked four men and hit two with the ball. Both teams scored twice as the result of errors.

The lineup: La Crosse: Stoneman c, Gunderson, Schultz p, Chinn 1b, Johnson 2b, Huseh 3b, Dean (Capt.) ss, Klandrud 1b, Glasbrenner c, Shields rf.

IF THIS PLAY COMES UP Here's Your Decision

Here's Your Decision
If a fair hit ball strikes the person or clothing of the umpire on fair territory, the batsman is entitled to first base, provided no play has been made on the ball. No base runners can advance on such a play unless forced to make room for the batsman. If a play has been made on the ball, and it then hits the umpire, it is considered in play and runners advance at their peril.

World. In reality, of course, high prices have nothing to do with prosperity. The only relation is this: How much in commodities can a man get for what he earns by his labor? How much will his effort buy him? "Most of the selling in America is done of course by retail salespeople. It isn't done by highly skilled specialty salesmen. And those salespeople look upon the proposition of creating desire and concentrating it upon certain goods as work. Human nature naturally flees from work and retail salespeople in the past four or five years have not had to sell goods.

Resistance Increased; Prices Lowered

"As a result we find today that we are obliged to meet an increased resistance with a very much lowered pressure.

The Only Real Sale

"The only sale that really counts is a sale made to the person who will wear the stuff out or eat it or in some way render the reproduction of that merchandise necessary. The merchandise must pass clear out through the end of the pipe before the sale has really been completely made. At the end of the last link in this pipeline of distribution, we have a tap, and through that tap, ninety-odd per cent of all merchandise sold in America must pass and does pass in to the hands of the ultimate consumer. That tap is the retail salesperson behind the counter. Experiments made recently have shown us (in the case of our experiments at least) that this tap is just 45 per cent open today; that 55 out of 100 sales made by advertising are killed by salespeople.

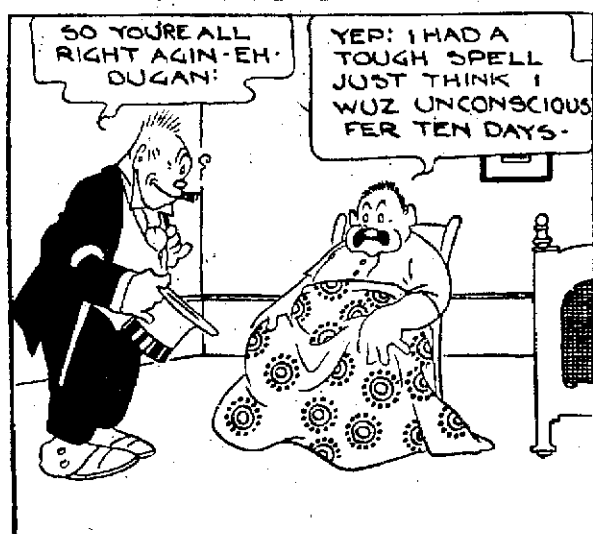

"Advertising seldom sells goods. Advertising does not sell goods except in the case of the great mail order houses, perhaps, and the companies that deal directly with the customer. All that advertising may do for most of us is to bring customers into stores where salespeople may either sell them goods or kill the sales, as they did in 55 per cent of the cases of our test.

"We don't sell articles, we sell the need for or the use of an article. Twenty years ago Mr. Simmons of the Simmons Hardware company said to the salesman in hardware stores: 'Don't try to sell augers; sell the customers holes and he will have to buy an auger to make them.' The same thing is true of everything that you and I try to sell. For example, let's take the case of men's overcoats. Perhaps you think you bought an overcoat last winter. You didn't buy an overcoat. What you bought was warmth, comfort, protection, style, fit, appearance. You bought the functions of the overcoat. Every woman who buys clothes buys style first and the other considerations—she does not buy a cloak or suit; she buys the function of the cloak or suit to her. It is always true that what we must sell is the use to which the article is to be put. To find that use we must look at the article through the eyes of the prospective customer and consider what could the customer do with this article if she or he bought it.

"The Associated Advertising Clubs of the World are, without question, the greatest marketing organization in the world, and therefore, we have felt that it was our duty to not only get in back of a movement for better advertising, but to enable the retailers using this better advertising to secure its full benefit through backing it up by better salesmanship. Therefore, our Educational Department has prepared two courses, one a short course in advertising which the retailer—or the person in his establishment who takes care of his advertising—may take up, and the other one a short course in retail selling, for the benefit of the salespeople in the retail stores. The short course in advertising is generally put on by our local advertising clubs, and is meeting with great success in all parts of the country. Some of our clubs are also putting on the short course in retail selling, while, in other cases, the retailers prefer to put this course on in their own stores.

A wise man recently said, "I occasionally dine with a newly wed couple and whenever they young wife serves a dish prepared by herself, a tablet containing a drug which is supposed to aid digestion is served with it. Of course it is all done in fun, but we are always glad to help the little joke along by taking the tablet."—Boston Transcript.

BRINGING UP FATHER

GIRL KNEW HE WAS MARRIED SAYS MAN ACCUSED OF BIGAMY

Declares He Gave Her a Certificate to Placate Wealthy Relatives

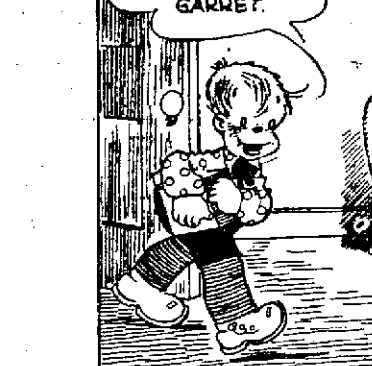

NEW YORK.—Virginia St. Julian Mayo, wealthy New Haven manufacturer, charged with bigamy, testified Friday Miss Wilhelmina Mayo of New Jersey, the complaining witness, knew perfectly well that he had a wife living in Scranton, Pa., when he entered into a marriage of convenience with her.

Mayo described the relations which he said had existed between him and Miss Meyer. It was at her suggestion that the name of V. J. Mayo was used in the marriage certificate, he said. Miss Meyer desired in order to re-establish herself in the good graces of her wealthy grandmother, "I told her that I did not know how I could arrange a marriage legally," Mayo continued, "I said it was dangerous. Miss Meyer said that if the thing could be done it would be kept absolutely quiet. She promised she would not tell a soul and she kept her word for a long period of years."

Mayo claims he has been a resident of this state long enough for the charge to be outlived.

GRIFFITH'S GUARD—MILITARISM IN GERMANY—PAN-AMERICAN BELLES—HITCHCOCK RIDES THE GOAT

WASHINGTON'S HOMAGE TO GRANT—The unveiling of the Grant equestrian statue at Washington, D. C., with picked companies from Annapolis and West Point in attendance.

"BABIES" OF PAN-AMERICAN MEET—Senorita Maria Clotilde Vega from Nicaragua and Senorita Ruby Gutierrez from Paraguay are the youngest delegates to the Pan-American Conference of Women.

GUARDS GRIFFITH—Maj. Gen. Sean McKeon of the Irish Republican Army, revolver in hand, keeps an eye open for trouble while Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann, addresses a street crowd at Sligo.

PRINCE OF WALES ARRIVES IN JAPAN—The Prince of Wales inspects the Imperial University of Tokyo shortly after his arrival. This is the first photograph to reach America since his arrival in Nippon.

RIDING THE GOAT—Maybe you've heard about the goat these Masonic fellows ride and thought it all a joke, but here's Raymond Hitchcock riding one on Fifth Ave., New York, to aid the drive for funds for the Masonic Home at Utica.

HIS LATEST PHOTO—Leaning on a cane and aided by an attendant, ex-President Wilson appeared before his Washington home to acknowledge homage of 1000 delegates to the Pan-American Conference of Women.

TO TRY AGAIN—Mrs. Arthur Hamilton, British woman athlete, again will try to swim the British Channel. She missed by three miles last year.

THEY'RE BLOOD FOES OF HAPSBURG—Countess Karolyi of Hungary and her baby. Tradition says one of the early Karolyis pronounced a curse against the Hapsburgs, rulers of Austria—and look at the Hapsburgs now!

ONE CAT HUBBY CAN'T PUT OUT—Mrs. Herbert Cole, San Francisco, keeps two cats—one an everyday "tiger," the other a sure-enough lion, one and one-half years old. One's as tame as the other. Kindness did it, says their mistress.

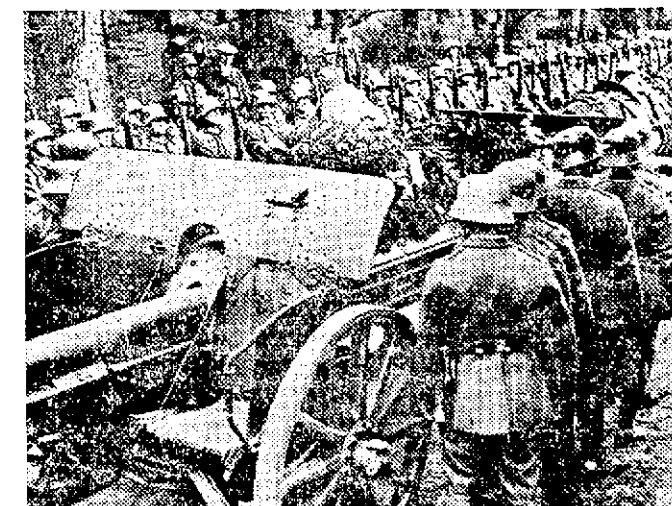

RECORD BREAKERS—Ethelda McGary, 14, of New York (standing), broke the world's swimming record for 300 yards, her time being 4:11. Ruth Smith, Ohio State University mermaid, broke the world's record for the 100-yard backhand stroke with a mark of 1:23 4-5.

BUCKING BIRD—Clarence Haag has to hang by the feathers of his ostrich steed at Jacksonville, Fla., for the bird behaves just like a bucking broncho. But speed—ziddap!

CHAINED CYCLIST—Erwin J. Smith, 24, Austin, Texas, is touring every capital in the United States by bicycle. Just to prove he's square, he has the bike chained to him—eating, sleeping and all the time.

MILITARISM IN GERMANY—A full military escort in traditional German helmets accompanying to the grave the body of General Count von Falkenhayne, former German war minister and chief of staff in the World War.

TO FIGHT HINDU NATIONALISTS—Parsees at Bombay, India, being trained in the manual of arms to combat followers of M. K. Gandhi, Nationalist leader, if an open revolt comes.

PAPOOSE PUP—Tired of dragging her "Paddy" about by a chain, Blanche McHaffey, New York, has rigged up a papoose bag to carry him in. Just like the squaws use—only it hangs in front.

HE'S REAL—This dog poses for hours motionless as an advertising stunt in a New York toy shop window. "Pretty Boy" is his name.

New High Speed Truck

The Ford Motor Co. is now offering a TON TRUCK with a high speed gear ratio. This makes the ideal truck where rapid and dependable transportation is required.

Price of Chassis—$488 delivered.

WORM DRIVE

A worm drive is used in both types of Ford trucks. We can best illustrate the merits of this type of final drive by stating that during the past few years we have sold hundreds of ton trucks and we have never repaired or replaced a rear end on a Ford ton truck.

MOTOR

All Ford trucks have the new improved Ford motors.

With lighter pistons and connecting rods, resulting in smoother running, reduced vibration, snappier pick up, decreased wear.

With improved cam shaft.

With improved piston and ring construction eliminating oil pumping.

With higher cylinder head—more water circulation, larger compression chamber, less carbon knock—less overheating.

CHASSIS IMPROVEMENTS

Improved front spring suspension making the front spring practically unbreakable. New front radius rod strengthening front end and making the whole truck more rigid.

New Carburetor—more mileage—more pep.

Ford Ton Truck and the New High Speed Ton Truck

Chassis $488 delivered at La Crosse equipped with cord tires on rear—demountable rims—Timkin bearings, etc.

Ford trucks are better than ever and cost less than ever.

The improved Ford ton truck is the lowest priced and most dependable transportation ever offered.

Henry Ford

Henry Ford for the past 18 months has been devoting practically all his time and thought to improving the Ford car and truck. When a man like Henry Ford who has built half of all the automobiles in the world, starts out to make a better truck you can be sure he will do it.

MORE PEOPLE THAN EVER ARE BUYING FORDS AND BANKING THE DIFFERENCE

During March and April we sold and delivered at retail in La Crosse 127 new Ford cars. This is by far a greater number of deliveries than we ever before made during March and April.
